

Functional solutions included in the solution

Team ID	NM2023TMID01158
Project Name	Unleashing the Potential of Youth: A student Performance Analysis.

It includes various sections such as a header, hero section, about section, portfolio section, team section, pricing section, FAQ section, contact section, and more. Each section is enclosed within HTML tags such as `<section>`, ``, and ``, and it contains content such as headings, paragraphs, images, and buttons.

The code also includes references to external CSS and JavaScript files for styling and functionality. These files are linked using the `<link>` and `<script>` tags in the `<head>` section of the HTML document.

Overall, it seems like this code is a template for a website related to student academic performance analysis, with sections for a dashboard, reports, stories, pricing, frequently asked questions, and contact information.

Please note that the code you provided references local image and file paths (C:\Users\ELCOT\Pictures\New folder\) which may not be accessible in this context.
